Wells to Whales: Protecting our Waters

Sunday, March 10th | 12:30-5:00pm
Registration required | $5 admission

Do you know your "ecological address?" Do you know where your water is sourced and where it goes? What's an aquifer anyway? When it rains, where does the stormwater go in your neighborhood? And why does all this matter?

We will explore issues of sustainability of water quality and quantity, and examine the science, impact and infrastructure in local and global systems. Resident experts will lead breakout groups so you can choose to deep dive on topics that interest you most.
